Sherming is a friendly girl who has always been able to get along with people from diverse backgrounds. She knows how to stay positive, even in the most challenging of situations. As part of this, she understands that the initial transition to life in the United States may be challenging, but knows that with her patience and determination she will be able to feel at home in a short amount of time. She hopes to share Chinese culture and cook Chinese food for her future host family, while also contributing to household well-being through helping with chores as needed.

Additional Comments

Sherming is an outgoing girl with a love of dance. Through dance she is able to de-stress and make friends with many other dance-lovers, something she hopes to do in the United States. She is a hard-worker who makes time to visit the elderly and work on projects to protect the environment as well. She hopes to join activities such as those previously mentioned while in the United States in part because she realizes that there is much knowledge to be obtained outside of school books alone.
