Student Interviewer's Comments

Peter has practiced martial arts for much of his life and finds that practicing it allows him to unwind after a demanding school day. He tutors his friends in computers, and wishes to continue this while abroad in addition to developing his math and science skills. Peter can be shy at first but is constantly working to push himself beyond his comfort zone. Above all, he knows that he wants to immerse himself in the culture of the United States and make many lasting friendships.

Additional Comments

Peter describes himself as an energetic young man who enjoys playing sports, especially basketball and badminton with his friends. He is committed to his community and has volunteered with the mentally disabled and has helped to put on races in his neighborhood. He currently lives in the dorms away from his family so he is a self-starter, but having a close bond with his host family is also of much importance to him. Cooking is another interest of his and he hopes to be able to share this with his future friends and host family in the United States.

About Ayusa

Since 1980, AYUSA has provided opportunities for more than 40,000 students from the U.S. and over 75 countries around the world to live and study through our programs. As the premier youth exchange organization in the United States, AYUSA strives to deliver the highest quality programs to students, host families, schools and communities. Student participants aged 15 through 18 learn about a new culture by living with a volunteer host family, making new friends, and studying at a local high school.
